

SYNOPSIS

Fly the Wild Echoes

Fliss, actress, haunted by nightmare images.

Edana, faded star, lost in the mists of time.

Adelaide, 18th century aristocrat, prey to a doomed love

Romance, intrigue and murder in a mystery of the mind. Three lives intertwined by a tragic event. Haunting shadows, dread and a search for answers at a chateau retreat.

What is the link between Fliss's dead lover and the bullet hole of her recurring nightmare? What of the allure of the mysterious rose garden? Why does Edana stand and stare from the window?

Therapist Gérard must guide Fliss through the mire despite the growing attraction between them and the escalating shocks of the truth.
